Spectacular Katsurahama

MAP A4-E

The glistening blue ocean reflects dazzling sunshine at Katsurahama, where there are colorful stones on the beach with white sand and green pines lining the coast. A statue of Sakamoto Ryoma stands on a hill, inviting visitors to this charming land that is famous for having a beautiful moon. There is also an aquarium by the sea, which has sea lion shows, and a souvenir center, where Kochi souvenirs are available.

- Access 🚗
- 30 minutes by car from the Kochi Station
- OR Local bus headed for "Katsurahama" from Minami Harimayabashi bus stop.
- OR MY Yu Bus (see pg. 16). Get off at "Katsurahama".

➡ The Sakamoto Ryoma Memorial Museum

This Memorial Museum introduces the life and promotes the image of Sakamoto Ryoma. Located on a hill in Katsurahama Park, from where a sweeping view of the Pacific Ocean can be seen, it also serves as an information center for documents related to Ryoma.

➡ Statue of Sakamoto Ryoma

Built in 1928 through the nationwide fund-raising efforts of Kochi youths, this magnificent statue conveys the achievements of Ryoma to future generations. Here he is dressed in traditional Japanese clothing and western boots as he gazes at the Pacific Ocean and conceals his hand.

WELCOME TO KOCHI!

Tosa Fiefdom and Samurai Culture

Sakamoto Ryoma

Ryoma paved the way in the transition from feudal times in Japan to the Meiji constitutional government, and then to today's democratic republic.

On November 15, 1835, near the end of the Edo period, Ryoma was born to a low-ranking samurai engaged in small business. Although he was shy and cried easily when he was young, he defined himself through the practice of Japanese swordsmanship. In 1861, he joined the Tosa Loyalist Party (Tosa is the old name for Kochi). After many incidents, including exchanges with like-minded samurai of other clans and becoming a disciple of Katsu Kaishu, a vassal of the shogun, he decided to leave the clan and discard the restrictive status of clan samurai. He accomplished many historic achievements that led to the structure of modern Japan, such as founding the trading company and private navy Kameyama Shachu, as well as forming the Satsuma-Choshu Alliance and restoring imperial rule in Japan. On November 15, 1867, he was assassinated at the Omiya Inn in Kyoto along with his sworn friend, Nakaoka Shintaro. He was 33 years old. Three months after his death, the new Meiji government was established. Ryoma's humility, his principle of living according to his beliefs, and his fearlessness in the face of change still do not fail to attract the hearts and minds of many people even to this day.

Ryoma's Birthplace Memorial Museum

MAP B1-C

Located in Kamimachi, where Ryoma was born and raised, this museum introduces Ryoma's boyhood years through images, audio, and CG. Many visitors take pictures sitting next to the seated Ryoma statue. "Pendoku", a multilingual audio guide, is available for easily understandable explanations of exhibits in four languages: English, Chinese, Taiwanese, and Korean.

Kochi Castle

MAP 2-B

Access

10 minutes by streetcar from Kochi Station. Get off at Kochijo-mae, and walk for 5 minutes.

Construction of Kochi Castle, which towers above the center of Kochi City, was started in 1601 by the first lord of the Tosa Clan, Yamanouchi Katsutoyo. It is nationally designated as one of Japan's Important Cultural Properties. Only three castles in Japan have both their main keep and main gate still intact, and Kochi Castle is the only one where both can be easily photographed in one shot. The main keep commands a panoramic view of Kochi City. Around the castle grounds there are statues of Lord Yamanouchi Katsutoyo and his wife Chiyo, who is famous for her support behind the scenes. There is also a statue of Itagaki Taisuke, who was the leader of the Liberty and People's Rights Movement.

Getting around the City

Harimaya Bridge

MAP 4-B

The Harimaya Bridge is known for the sad story of a love affair between a monk named Junshin and a woman named Ouma, and it is one of the most famous tourist spots in Kochi. In 2009, a movie entitled "The Harimaya Bridge" was released. From the four sides of the automaton clock on the opposite side of the street, a group of dancers, as well as the Harimaya Bridge, Kochi Castle, and Katsurahama appear in time with the melody of the Yosakoi song. It is illuminated at night.

Automaton Clock
9:00 - 21:00 (every hour on the hour)
※Does not operate in heavy weather.

Streetcars

Streetcars are a popular method of transportation for the citizens of Kochi. The Tosa Electric Railway streetcars are the oldest existing in Japan, and many people take photographs of them. Kochi streetcars also have the longest set of railways of any streetcars in the country, and they are useful for downtown sightseeing. Streetcars from Germany, Norway, and Austria, and other special streetcars are available for rent to groups. The sound of streetcars is a symbol of the bustling city.

Kochi Yosakoi Museum

MAP 5-B

Once you enter, be sure to head left to the "Yosakoi Circle" first. Here you can learn about the basics and history of the festival. Afterward, pass through the "Yosakoi Tunnel" to the "Yosakoi Square." In the theater and hands-on corner, you can experience the joys of the Yosakoi festival yourself.

Let's go to Sunday market

MAP B3-4-B

Access

10-minute walk from Kochi Station.

Sunday Market, which has a history of over 300 years, is an important market for Kochi's citizens. As many as 500 open booths are lined in a row eastward from Kochi Castle for about 1km, displaying all kinds of goods from rarities to everyday items, including fresh vegetables, fruits, seafood, and antiques. It is recommended that you go in the morning while there are still a lot of items.

[Market Hours]

(including preparation time for opening and closing)

April to September: 5:00 - 18:00

October to March: 6:00 - 17:00

Closed on January 1 and 2, and during Yosakoi Festival (August 10 - 12)

Experience Nature

WELCOME TO KOCHI!

Kochi's rich nature, with the majestic Pacific Ocean in the south and the deep mountains in the north, is full of sights to be seen. Visit them at your leisure.

Access

20 minutes by car from Kochi Station. OR MY Yu Bus (see pg. 16). Get off at "Mt. Godai Observation Deck", "Makino Botanical Garden", or "Chikurinji Temple".

➔ Mt. Godai MAP A5-D

Mt. Godai is situated in the southeast part of Kochi City, and it is famous for cherry blossoms and azaleas. You can get a great view of the city from the mountain's observation deck, and it is also a famous spot for a night view.

➔ Makino Botanical Garden MAP A5-D

Makino Botanical Garden was opened in memory of Makino Tomitaro, a world famous botanist. There is a section introducing his life and a project exhibition room in the exhibition pavilion. There are also restaurants and shops that adults and children alike can enjoy. The buildings are built mostly out of wood, seeming to be in harmony with Mt. Godai. You can also enjoy different plants in the garden each season.

➔ Chikurinji MAP A5-D

Why don't you adopt the heart of a traveler and become an "Ohenro-san", or pilgrim, and visit Shikoku's eighty-eight sacred temples? You will be able to encounter beautiful nature and human warmth. Chikurinji is the 31st temple on the holy pilgrimage.

Kochi's Famous Yosakoi Festival

Yosakoi was started in Kochi in 1954 to help shore up the ailing economy and to encourage local citizens. It then spread not only throughout Japan, but also throughout the whole world. In Kochi City, where Yosakoi originated, the festival is held every year at 17 different venues for four days starting on the evening of August 9th, which is the Pre-Festival Show. Approximately 190 teams totaling almost 20,000 dancers participate in the main part of the festival on August 10th and 11th. Each team presents a creative and energetic dance, and their unique costumes, music, and choreography envelop the whole city in the Yosakoi Festival. On the 12th, the Post-Festival Show and the Yosakoi National Contest are held. Please visit Kochi and experience this festival, where the sound of wooden clappers resounds throughout the city.

[Pre-Festival Show]

Date: August 9
Venue: Chuo Koen ("Central Park")

[Main Festival]

Date: August 10 and 11
Venues: There are many sites for competition and performance around Kochi City, including Otesuji

[Post-Festival Show/Yosakoi National Contest]

Date: August 12
Venues: Otesuji, Chuo Koen, Obiyamachi Arcade, and Kochi Castle

Yosakoi National Contest

Yosakoi has spread to more than 200 places throughout Japan, and each region has its own unique characteristics. In the Yosakoi National Contest, teams participating from around the country and award-winning teams from the main festival compete against one another.

Kochi City Summer Evening Fireworks

Kochi City holds a fireworks display every year the evening before the Main Yosakoi Festival with approximately 4,000 fireworks of various types.

Date: August 9

Venue: Midori-no-hiroba (Green Square)

Enjoy Hirome Market

MAP 3-B

There are seven sections in Hirome Market, such as "Castle Square" and "Ryoma Street", which hold many unique shops such as fish vendors, butchers, sundries shops, clothing stores, and restaurants. Everyone buys food separately and then sits and eats together at the tables and chairs that are placed throughout the market. After you are done eating, the staff will collect your dishes. You can eat, drink, and shop to your heart's content. At Hirome, locals and tourists alike can be found sharing tables and friendly conversation while enjoying the festivities from morning to late evening.

Rich Food Culture

We are proud of Tosa food culture, cultivated by nature and rich tradition.

⇒ Katsuo (Bonito)

Kochi Prefecture boasts of having the highest consumption of katsuo in Japan. There are a variety of ways to eat it, but "katsuo no tataki" is the most representative of Kochi. It is prepared by searing the katsuo briefly, then slicing and seasoning it with green onion or myoga (Japanese ginger). Since each shop and region has its own seasoning or special sauce, you can savor a variety of flavors. "Shio tataki", seared katsuo served hot with salt, is one popular variety.

⇒ Hat bread

This hat-shaped bread was created in Kochi. The top part of the hat is soft, and the brim is crispy, sweet sponge cake. It is available at most bakeries in Kochi.

⇒ Imo Kenpi (sweet potato sticks)

This snack is made by frying sweet potatoes and sprinkling them with sugar. They are crisp and sweet and have a taste you won't ever get tired of.

⇒ Inakazushi (sushi from the countryside)

This healthy dish is made with fresh, seasonal ingredients. These ingredients change based on the region and season, but they include many local vegetables such as bamboo shoots and shiitake mushrooms.

⇒ Fruits

Some famous Kochi citrus fruits are buntan (pomelo), konatsu orange, and ponkan (Chinese honey orange). They are bright yellow, juicy, and sweet.

⇒ Aisukurin (derived from ice cream)

Aisukurin, a Kochi specialty, has a texture between ice cream and sherbet. It has a low fat content and a pleasant aftertaste. It is popular for its old and familiar flavor, and it is often sold at tourist spots like Katsurahama.

A Taste of Sake Culture

Living up to the name "Tosa, land of sake", Kochi Prefecture is known as a place where men and women of all (legal) ages enjoy sake. Kochi has a variety of locally brewed sake rich with regional flare that is characterized as transparent with a crisp and dry flavor that never gets old. Kochi also has unique banquet games such as "Hashi Ken" and "Beku Hai", which are not seen in other regions.

⇒ Hashi Ken (game using chop sticks)

This traditional Tosa enkaï game is played by two people and involves guessing the number of chopsticks hidden in the sleeve of the opponent's outstretched arm. The loser has to drink sake, making the game more heated as the players become drunker.

⇒ Kiku No Hana (chrysanthemum flower)

In this game, many sake cups are placed upside down, and a chrysanthemum is placed under one of the cups. Each player has to flip over one cup in turn. If you lift the cup under which the flower is hidden, the cups already turned over will be filled with sake, and you have to drink all of them! This enkaï game is really brutal!

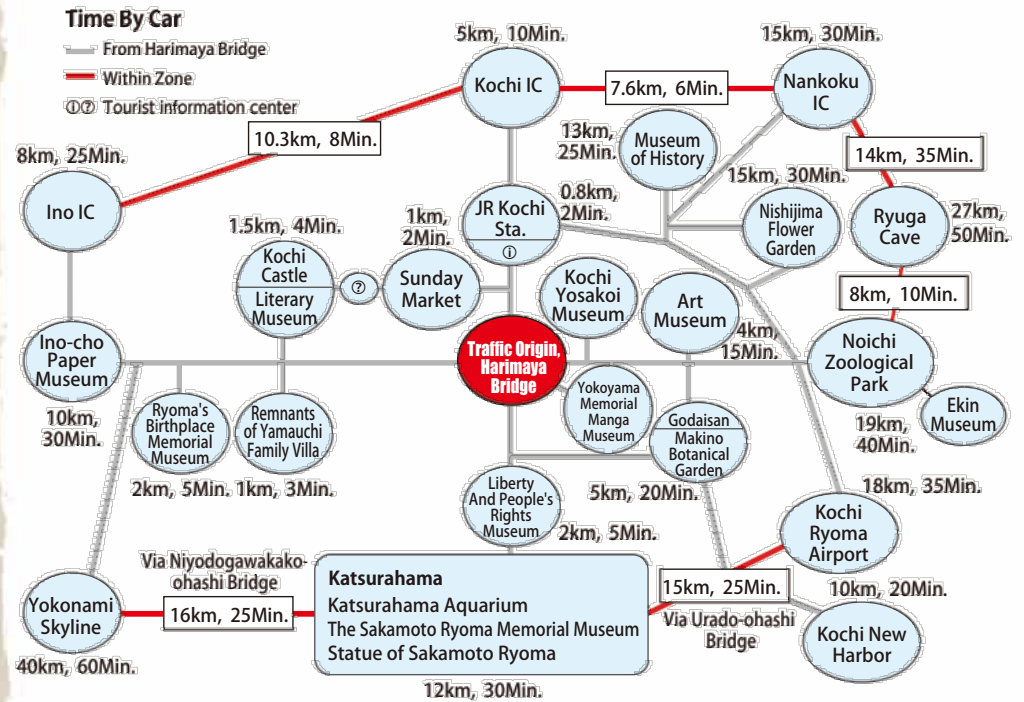

⇒ Beku Hai (cups that cannot be put down until the sake inside has been finished)

Players of Beku Hai, another traditional enkaï game, spin a top and drink from the cup indicated on the upward facing side of the top when it falls. The bottoms of the cups are hard to balance, and one has a hole in it, so you cannot put them down until you finish the sake inside.
